Update from the Lavender Class!

This week to celebrate Heritage Week the Lavender class were lucky enough to attend two great talks held in the school hall. The first was some story telling by Seosamh Ó'Maolalaí and the second was a chat with archeologist Frankie Callaghan who showed us some amazing artefacts she's found while doing her job.

Garda Property Marking Clinic in Tyrrelstown Community Centre

Tomorrow the 28th of January there will be a Property Marking Clinic for any property you have such as bicycles, laptops and scooters from 2pm – 3:30pm in Tyrrelstown Community Centre. If you can't attend tomorrow they will be there again in March! Please see below for more information.

The poster features the Garda Síochána logo at the top. Below it, the title reads 'Tyrrelstown Garda Property Marking Clinic'. The text explains that property can be marked with a unique E-Code, including bicycles, laptops, and scooters. It states that the Garda will be available on the day to discuss any concerns or offer advice to community members. The event details are: 'Where: Tyrrelstown Community Centre', 'When: Saturday 28th January 2pm - 3:30pm' and 'Saturday 25th March 2pm - 3:30pm'. A 'Read More' button is located at the bottom of the poster.

Kamilah Class Update!

Kamilah Class had a fantastic Heritage Week with lots of hands-on learning and discovery, perfectly timed with our Vikings study topic – just ahead of our visit to Dublinia next week. Our classmate Rory also brought in some of his own family's artefacts and taught us all about his great-great-grandfather Bertie Donnelly, an Olympian cyclist [...]

The image shows a group of children in a classroom setting, engaged in a hands-on activity. They are holding up a large, colorful Viking longship model. The children are smiling and appear to be enjoying the activity. The text 'IGS!' and 'AH' is visible in the background. A 'Read More' button is located at the bottom of the image.

Class Closure for Autism Classes on Wednesday February 1st due to Staff Training

Just a small reminder that the NCSE has allocated the school a "Autism Training Day" which will be on Wednesday 1st of February for staff in the autism classes. Therefore school will be closed for all our autism class pupils on 1st of February.

The image shows a yellow sticky note with the word 'Remember!!' written in a cursive font. The note is slightly curled at the corners, giving it a three-dimensional appearance. A 'Read More' button is located at the bottom of the image.
